

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE COMMERCE BOARD

VERY SUCCESSFUL GATHERING HELD AT HOTEL BELDING TUESDAY

SIX COURSE DINNER UP TO USUAL STANDARD

Able Addresses Given by Lee H. Bierce, Roy C. Vandercook, A. Patriarche and Arthur Waterfall

Opening with delightful music from a six-piece orchestra at eight o'clock the first Annual Banquet of Commerce Banquet held in Hotel Belding Tuesday evening moved with an ease and grace that did much credit to Manager Dunham. Compactly and yet conveniently arranged the tables in the main dining room accommodated almost one hundred members of the board and the overflow was placed in the adjoining sample room. With an efficient corps of waitresses and a six-course dinner, all of delicious and appetizing viands, Mr. Dunham and his assistants pleased in a manner that evoked general complimentary remarks from the banqueters. Many and general, too, were the compliments paid to the orchestra for its fine music.

Before introducing the speakers of the evening President R. H. Hall, who was also toastmaster, read many letters and telegrams from absent members and friends of the organization expressing their inability to attend the big annual gathering. Among the communications were those from Paul H. King, Frank H. Alfred, M. Belding, M. M. Belding, Jr., A. N. Belding, Geo. P. Richardson, and Fred N. Belding. President Hall then spoke briefly of the past work of the organization, what it had accomplished and the things it hoped to do. He urged the hearty and steady co-operation of the members and invited suggestions or criticisms on the work. He then passed the word to Lee H. Bierce, former vice-president of the board, who is known to have been very active in the formation and starting of the board here. Sane, witty and quick, Mr. Hall guided the dinner with a grace that branded him as a future toastmaster of ability in our city. With a trite and able introduction he presented Lee H. Bierce of Grand Rapids, and that well-known gentleman opened his remarks with an after dinner story that will long linger in the minds of every listener. The story drove home the idea of "never sleeping on the job" in a most forceful manner.

Mr. Bierce characterized a board of commerce as a clearing house for activities in a city and an organization through which to accomplish things of general good to the community. He asserted that man singly could not think fast enough and it was through concerted action that the worth-while things were accomplished. He branded the east system in civic and social affairs as the biggest barrier to rapid health, growth and predicted that the next few months and years would bring us face to face with bigger and more vital problems than had confronted us before in many years. The ideal city, he outlined, as being sanitary, convenient and substantial. Filled with lifters and boosters, it would not lack in good fellowship and cooperation.

Roy C. Vandercook, whom President Hall characterized as the chief sales dispenser of the Pere Marquette railroad, (referring to his official capacity as publicity manager of that company), spoke on the subject of the Michigan National Guard and its duty and possibilities in the nation's development. He sounded the oft repeated sentiment that the big trouble with our military system was the lack of organization and too many isolated army posts. He said the defense problem was one that the government could not solve, but that it must be solved by each individual citizen. Every citizen must have a patriotism that will impel him to go out and fight for his country when needed. He declared the present national guard worth of the country with the chance it has of making good and providing adequate protection. For more efficiency and economy in civic and social affairs, he advocated the centralization of headquarters and the (Continued on Page Four)

From Los Angeles, California

The Banner is in receipt of the following item from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce: "Mrs. R. M. Wilson of Belding was a recent visitor at the big exhibit of Southern California products maintained free to the public in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. She also attended the free lectures, moving pictures and concert that are a part of the daily program. The exhibit is the largest of any in the country maintained by a commercial organization. Mrs. Wilson expects to visit the Panama-California International Exposition at San Diego, which will remain open all the year."

TIMELY ARTICLE IN WEEKLY DEPARTMENT

In the Farm and Orchard department of the Banner this week will be found some timely advice to farmers on home-made appliances which add comfort to the housewife and members of the family. The Farm and Orchard department is good every week. This week plans are given for making fireless cookers and iceless refrigerators. Every rural resident should read the Farm and Orchard department.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Johnston and Mrs. Morris Uch visited the former's parents at Fenwick, last Friday.

BOX SOCIAL NETTED HOLY NAME SOCIETY $94

The Box Social given by the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church at Millard hall, last Thursday was well attended, about 160 people being present.

The company were entertained with music furnished by a five-piece orchestra, after which progressive pedro was played. First and booby prizes were then offered for ladies and the same for the men.

Nick Warner took charge of selling the boxes and baskets. To men responded generously to his call, the boxes running as high as $5. Coffee was then served by several of the young ladies, and all enjoyed the good things with which the boxes were filled.

After supper the orchestra again entertained the company and the young people spent a pleasant hour dancing, before departure.

The amount cleared was $94.68.

COUNCIL MEMBERS SHOWN A ROYAL TIME AT THE FOOD CITY

MAYOR AND STREET COMMISSIONER ACCOMPANY THEM. SECURE INFORMATION

Because of the unusual hospitality shown Mayor C. A. Knapp, members of the city council and Street Commissioner James Meglin by the people of Battle Creek last week, while these gentlemen were in attendance at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Good Roads Association, the visitors will always have a very warm feeling for that city.

Soon after the party's arrival in Battle Creek the Belding men went to the city hall to secure information on municipal affairs that would assist them in directing the business of Belding. They met the captain of the police force, who took them to the office of the superintendent of public works. Here the men met the superintendent and also the city engineer.

After a cordial reception by the officials the men were met by Chief of Police William H. Farrington. While the boys had a great deal of fun over the fact that they were placed in the hands of the police department they were nevertheless shown a royal time by their chief. He took them to dinner and then went from place to place introducing them to all the officials and to all the prominent men of the city. Trips were made to the big food factories and the sanitarium. Every question regarding municipal affairs, asked by the council members, were answered by the chief or if he could not answer them he arranged for them to meet other officials and secure the desired information.

Every official of the city gave liberally of the information from his department and assured the visitors that it was a pleasure to be of assistance. Never in any city have the men had such cordial treatment as at Battle Creek. They are enthusiastic in their expressions of entire satisfaction.

After hearing the address of welcome by the city mayor, at the good roads meeting, and then going out and finding that every citizen of Battle Creek carried out the "welcome" idea in his handshake, conversation and general bearing, the visitors were convinced that they were really met what he said. They were also convinced that this very spirit in the town is helping, in a large measure, to give Battle Creek the growth and reputation it has.

Minstrel Show Was Good

The minstrel show at the Opera House Tuesday night was a good one and although the big banquet kept away a lot of people who undoubtedly would have been there, a fairly good audience greeted them. The De Rue Bros. gave a clean entertainment, their music was catchy and the funny men and comedians gave the audience many a hearty laugh.

TROUT FISHERS ARE BACK HOME

The trout fishermen—Forrest Fish, H. J. Leonard, J. C. Ames and Chas. W. Madden, who formed a party of five automobiles, and drove to the fishing grounds in the vicinity of Luther and Baldwin last week, have returned, bringing home all the trout they caught, which they did not eat while in camp. They claim they could have done better had the weather not been against them, as they nearly froze several nights. Bad roads were encountered and they had to use the tow-line frequently to pull out of the sand and mud. Fish says Madden and Leonard scared a lot of trout by continually falling into deep holes.

Quarterly Statement

In the quarterly statement of the financial condition of the Belding Savings Bank published last week an error occurred. For this reason we are reprinting the notice this week. You will find the report on another page.

Built on Wrong Lot

David S. Grosfent, who recently purchased a lot on the Demarest addition of Henry A. Smith, got mixed up in some way on its location and built him a small house on an adjoining lot belonging to Dr. E. W. Little. When the assessor, Supervisor W. B. Travis, was around making the assessment he discovered the mistake and the angle is being fixed up by Mr. Grosfent by shifting his home on to his own property.

Girls! Girls! Girls! Don't Forget Leap Year party at K. of P. Hall

Elder J. W. Archer left Tuesday for Alma to hold quarterly meetings Thursday evening, May 25th—adv. at that point in his district.

God Bless The Flag.

Washed in the blood of the brave and the blooming,
Snatched from the altars of insolent foes,
Burning with star-fires, but never consuming,
Flash its broad ribbons of lily and rose.

Vainly the prophets of Baal would rend it,
Vainly his worshipers pray for its fall;
Thousands have died for it, millions defend it,
Emblem of justice and mercy to all.

Justice that reddens the sky with her terrors,
Mercy that comes with her white-handled train,

Soothing all passions, redeeming all errors,
Sheathing the sabre and breaking the chain.

Borne on the deluge of old usurpations,
Drifted our Ark o'er the desolate seas,
Bearing the rainbow of hope to the nations,
Torn from the storm-cloud and flung to the breeze!

God bless the Flag and its loyal defenders,
While its broad folds o'er the battle-field wave,
Till the dim star-wreath rekindle its splendors,
Washed from its strains in the blood of the brave.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

DEATH OF MRS. DUBOISE IN FREMONT

News of the death of Mrs. Jesse Duboise in Fremont was received here by her mother, Mrs. Jane Lewis, Monday. She died Sunday afternoon, after a lingering sickness of several months duration and the funeral was held at the home Wednesday.

Mrs. Duboise was forty years old and was married to Mr. Duboise about seventeen years ago. They were residents of this city for several years and the deceased had a very large circle of friends in the community. She was a member of the local Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F. and they sent fine floral offerings to attest the esteem in which she was held. When her sister, Mrs. George Shoemaker left there about a week ago it was thought she might survive two or three months.

Mrs. Duboise leaves, besides her husband and mother, two sisters, Mrs. George Shoemaker and Mrs. Henry Smith, the latter living near Fremont.

Carpenter Won Case

The case of Carpenter against Van Horn which has been occupying the attention of Justice A. L. Spencer's court for some time in numerous adjournments was tried last Friday before the court and Carpenter won getting a judgment of about $12 and costs. Carpenter claimed he overpaid Van Horn on a well job, which was denied.

L. B. Rarden of Greenville appeared for Van Horn and Fred L. Warner handled Carpenter's side of the case.

MAYNARD BYRNES THROWN FROM BUGGY

Maynard Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Byrnes of Keene, aged about 15 years, while driving to the city Monday morning to school, was thrown from his buggy and rendered unconscious for a while.

Young Byrnes was driving his pony and when near the Wilson corner one of the hills broke letting it strike the animal's leg causing it to plunge and run away. The lad was thrown out and evidently in falling struck heavily on his head. Don and Harold Cooper, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cooper, came along a few minutes later in their rig and discovered him in a dazed condition, not seeming to know what had happened.

They took him into their rig and left him at Fr. J. M. Zindler's. Fr. Zindler gave him attention at once and found he had a bad bump on his head. Mr. Byrnes was notified and came for him with an automobile, taking him home. The pony had gotten loose from the buggy, which had a demolished wheel, and was caught near the Cannon place. It is expected the boy will be all right again soon.

Had Good Recital

Over two hundred and fifty people attended the recital given by the pupils of Miss Nettie Correll at the Methodist church Tuesday evening. The program was carried out without tire some waits and was complete except for two numbers. Two pupils had the measures.

Miss Correll received many compliments on the attainment of her pupils. Everyone was well-satisfied with the showing and with the advancement the students are making. In fact many numbers were played as perfectly as if given by skilled musicians.

Tenth Anniversary

Twenty-five members of the Church of Christ and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knight gave them a surprise Monday evening the occasion being their tenth wedding anniversary. The visiting friends took cake and ice cream with them as refreshments. The evening was spent in a general social time and in playing games.

CITY HALL GROUNDS ARE LOOKING FINE

The grounds around the city hall and the park are looking fine in spite of the weather conditions, which have retarded outdoor work. Mr. Cook is certainly entitled to a whole lot of credit for the labor expended and the excellent taste he has shown in beautifying the grounds with plants and flowers.

A large lot of cannas and other flowering plants were received this week from Iowa and will be placed in beds which have already been prepared for them.

Mrs. Miles Wood visited her son and family at Lowell last week.

CLEAN UP DAY AND WEEK BIG SUCCESS HERE IN BELDING

CHILDREN OF SCHOOLS ENTERED INTO WORK OF CLEANING WITH ZEAL

GARDENS AND LAWNS LOOKING MUCH BETTER

Spirit of Town Favors Befriending the Birds and Building Homes for Them

Many people took advantage of the good weather last week for cleaning up rubbish and made their premises look much better by some persistent work. They were reminded of the need of such work in the proclamation sent out by Governor Ferris and also in the proclamation made by Mayor Knapp. While last Wednesday, May 10, was proclaimed the real clean-up day by the state officials and by Mayor Knapp, the school children were urged to make the whole week a clean-up week.

Cleaning up yards, grounds and gardens is part of the plans outlined in the Junior Civic League. The children entered into the work with a zeal that reflected to the credit of scores of homes in the city. Always neat and clean lawns, yards and homes of this city present a neater appearance this spring than ever before.

The city is known as being one in which every lawn is kept neat and attractive, but the citizens generally are devoting more attention to their lawns this spring than before. Lots of shrubbery being planted and flower beds are becoming more numerous. Then too, wren houses and houses for other birds are being built and placed in every conceivable place to attract the birds. The birds appreciate the attention paid them as is shown in the increased number remaining here.

In truth everyone seems to be devoted to the task of making "Belding Bigger and Better."

GEN. AND MRS. YOUNG SERVANTS AT THEIR HOUSEMAIDS' PARTY

UNUSUAL SOCIAL EVENT WAS HELD IN THE YOUNG HOME IN CHICAGO

Last Saturday's issue of the Chicago Tribune contained a front page article, telling of the party given by their two servants, Katie and Maggie, with General E. C. Young and his wife as servants. Mrs. Young is the daughter of the late Hiram Belding and is well-known here. Besides the fact that the Youngs are so well-known here the article is well worth printing because of the fine consideration given by them to their servants. Below we reprint the item for Banner readers:

"Beverly Hills put the horse before the cart yesterday, in a manner of speaking, and if there is any doubt that Gen. Edward C. Young and Mrs. Young have not solved the servant problem, that doubt was dispelled when the general and his wife served tea while Maggie and Katie entertained."

Maggie and Katie are the two maids in the Young household. A week ago the Youngs agreed to give over the house to these loyal retainers and themselves take the burden of service. It was done with high success.

Wedded Twenty-Eight Years

It was twenty-eight years ago that Miss Mary Belding, daughter of the late Hiram Belding, silk merchant, was married to Gen. Young. They went to housekeeping and Maggie Verley came as a maid. Eleven years ago Kate Hoerschgen came as second maid.

For the afternoon yesterday Maggie and Kate were given full sway. They were told to make up their own guest list and they invited sixty of the closest friends of the Youngs. They arranged all the details and during all the afternoon they were the hostesses.

(Continued on Page Four)

WHITNEY STOCK CO. COMING NEXT WEEK

The well-known and popular Whitney Stock Co. will pay its annual visit to Belding for the week commencing Monday, May 22. This organization is always one of the best traveling, but the managers, Messrs. Welsh and Walbourn are always on the alert to make the attraction better if they can.

The company comes here from a five-months' stock engagement at the Crystal theatre in Anderson, Ind., and will present without a doubt the highest class line of plays that have ever been produced under a canvas. Each play has been secured exclusively for this territory and can be seen with no other attraction. Prominent among these are the big white slave drama "Why Girls Leave Home," the biggest Indian novelty ever written, "The White Squaw," the play of the hour "Uncle Sam in Mexico," the startling story of high finance, "The Net" and others.

The dress of the shows as in the past is made a feature and many new and handsome creations are offered by the ladies. "Happy" Lou Whitney is again supported by Russell L. Test and a sterling company of artists. A host of pleasing vaudeville features are introduced between acts making a continuous performance. The opening play will be the biggest story of frenzied finance ever unfolded to the public, "The Net" a play every woman should see and in order to do this ladies will be admitted free on Monday night when accompanied by one paid twenty cent ticket. The big tent will be erected on West Main street.

ELISHA RAYMOND HAS PASSED AWAY

Elisha Raymond died at his home near Ravell's mill Saturday, May 13, aged 79 years, 7 months, and 13 days, having been in poor health for the past year.

Mr. Raymond was born in Canada October 1, 1838, and came to Michigan in an early day and was married to Mary Blow at Lapeer in 1859, who survives him. Eleven children were born to them, six sons and three daughters, all of whom survive, except two daughters, who died in infancy. His son, Fred Raymond, lived with the father and mother. Mrs. Edward Lunt of Grand Rapids, Edward Raymond of Toledo, and John Raymond of Belding, are children and were in attendance at the funeral, which was held Tuesday, Rev. W. A. Biss officiated and Mrs. E. E. Hudson sang.

The deceased was an excellent citizen. The burial took place in Green's cemetery.

Were Here From the West

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Diamond of Kaw City, Oklahoma have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warner the past week. Mrs. Diamond is an aunt of Mr. Warner. They were residents of this city about eighteen years ago and Mr. Diamond owned the house now the property of Dr. J. H. Armstrong. On leaving here they moved west going to Oklahoma, where they made good.

Last summer Mr. and Mrs. Diamond in company with others made an extensive trip by automobile east and south through several states and back to their homes again. They have gone to Lansing, and will go to several other places in Michigan before returning to Kaw City.

Last Their Baby Boy

A letter to the Banner from Joseph Isabell, who with his family recently moved to Rockwood, Tenn., states that their baby boy died May 9, being sick only from Saturday night until Sunday. Two of the best physicians of that place were called, but were unable to give him only temporary relief.

OFF FOR AN EXTENDED TRIP IN THE WEST

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker left Monday for an extended trip in the West on their way to Muscota, Kan., where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. R. E. Spear.

Mr. Walker is in search of better health and it is believed a change of occupation and climate will be beneficial to him.

They will also visit Kansas City and several other places in the western country, where they have relatives and friends.

During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark will occupy their home on the Luther addition.

MILLER & HARRIS CO. HAVE UP-TO-DATE STOCK

In the window of the Miller Harris Furniture company this week may be seen a fine display of baby carriages and buggies. The company has a large stock of these choice buggies, in a wide variety of styles and colors. This is the season of the year when babies should have fresh air, and it would pay every parent to look over this line of buggies and select the one wanted.

The Miller & Harris company also has a large full line of furniture and house furnishings of all kinds. The line is constantly kept up to the minute. Manager Hall was in Grand Rapids last week making purchases from the big manufacturers of furniture to keep the stock complete. You will always find the best at this store and you will find the new things announced in the company's advertisement and shown in the windows of the store.

AUTOMOBILISTS MUST STOP, LISTEN AT RAILROAD CROSSING

SUPREME COURT SAYS OLD RULE APPLIES TO AUTOS AT RAILROAD CROSSINGS

Rules which must be followed by automobile drivers at railroad crossings in order to sidestep a charge of contributory negligence in case of an accident were strengthened considerably recently by the supreme court by deciding a Battle Creek case.

The "stop, look, listen" rule of pedestrians must be followed absolutely and at the same time the court intimates that an automobile driver by reason of the ordinary condition of things should go just a little further in his precautions.

A year ago the court applied the "stop, look, and listen" rule to automobiles in a Detroit case, but recently it went a little stronger and read into Michigan decisions a quotation from a recent federal decision which makes the proposition absolutely rock-bottom.

John S. Sanford, of Battle Creek, was struck by a Grand Trunk train several months ago. He sued the railroad company and got a verdict of $650. At the trial it was shown that he had stopped, looked and listened some distance from the tracks, but had not exercised that caution when close to the railroad. The Calhoun circuit refused to take the case away from the jury on the ground that Sanford had been cautious enough, frankly stating that the "stop, look and listen" rule should not be applied to automobilists for the reason that if the stop was a dead one, the engine might be killed and a worse accident caused.

With this theory the supreme court however, does not agree, reverses the case and spoils Sanford's verdict.

Justice Brooks, who wrote the opinion, quotes the opinion of Justice Steere a year ago, and then supplements it with a quotation from an eastern federal judge. Sanford asserted that right at the track he did not have an unobstructed view of the tracks and for that reason he should be relieved from the necessity of stopping. He insisted that he had done all the careful man would have done under the circumstances.

The very contention of Sanford was in the federal case which Justice Brooks cites and here is what the United States judge said:

"The duty of an automobile driver approaching tracks where there is restricted vision to 'stop, look and listen,' and to do so at a time and place where stopping, and where looking any longer, will be effective, is a positive duty and the safeguarding steps the plaintiff failed to take. He stopped where stopping served no purpose, and failed to stop where stopping would have disclosed danger. He made chance and not sight, the guarantee of his safety."

R. H. WALDO AND MARY ERICKSON MARRIED

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Detroit Sunday when Miss Mary Jane Erickson of that city became the bride of R. H. Waldo. Mr. Waldo is of this city the latter part of the week, and while his friends expected that the event would occur soon, they were nevertheless surprised Monday to learn that it had actually happened. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo returned to the city Monday evening. They will rent furnished rooms until they can find a suitable home. Mrs. Waldo is well known in Belding, having for over two years been one of the partners in the M. & E. Erickson millinery store. Both she and Mr. Waldo are known as being among this city's most estimable young people.

Enjoyed Visit Here Very Much

Mrs. O. H. Heath, who has been the guest of Mrs. Stone and Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith, returned home to Ithaca Wednesday. She is an old friend of Mrs. Stone and came for a visit with her and to renew acquaintances with old-time friends here.

Mrs. Heath, whose maiden name was Maria Hutchison, came to Otisco near Cook's Corners, when there were but few families here, and remembers attending a funeral in this place when the father and mother of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bros and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Demorest sang. She attended district school with the late Erasmus Ellis of Detroit and Mrs. M. A. Filkins. While here she visited Mrs. Asher Shaw and Mrs. M. R. Wetzer and enjoyed talking over the events of the days of long ago in this locality. She very much enjoyed an automobile ride given her by Brinton F. Hall around the country and among the places she was once familiar with.

Old Papers for Sale at This Office

DECORATION DAY AND MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE PLANNED

A GOOD PROGRAM BEING PREPARED FOR DECORATION DAY SERVICES

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN CHURCH OF CHRIST

Full Particulars Regarding the Observance of the Two Days Will Be Given Next Week

Sunday, May 28, will be Memorial Sunday in Belding. The annual memorial day services will be held in the Church of Christ. The general plans for the day are much the same as last year. The members of the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and Daughters of Veterans will attend the services in a body.

A good program is being prepared for Decoration Day, May 30. In the program members of the different patriotic bodies and of the schools will have parts. The Women's Relief Corps will conduct the Water Service as has been the custom in the past. As it is part of the local orders work to decorate the graves of deceased comrades at Otisco and Smyrna, dinner will be served at Smyrna to all who desire to attend the different services. Full particulars of the services both of Memorial and Decoration days given next week.

It should be the purpose of every loyal patriotic citizen of Belding and vicinity to attend these services. True patriotism is becoming too rare in this country. Surely the American people should be willing to devote a few hours one day a year in paying respect and honor to our brave soldiers of '61 and '65, and in paying due respect to the nation's flag. An earnest appeal is going out from each of the patriotic orders of the city, to have a much larger attendance and observance of Decoration day this year than ever before.

"THE NAUTICAL KNOT" STAGED NEXT FRIDAY

The big annual musical feature of the school year, "The Nautical Knot," will be staged at the Belding Opera House next Friday evening, May 19. It will be under the direction of Miss Verna Downs, musical director in the schools, assisted by Mrs. Earl Wilson. Seventy-five local people, mostly students in the schools, will be in the cast. The plot is full of life and spirit and an enjoyable evening is assured. The love thread is adroitly drawn out in interesting happenings and circumstances. Below is the cast of characters. On another page is the advertisement giving price of admission and other information.

- Program
1. Overture.....Orchestra
 2. The Day is Fair.....Chorus
 3. The Sea is the Life for a Manly Man.....Chorus
 4. Behold the Belle of Barnstapole.....Chorus
 5. Once Long Ago.....Chorus
 6. My Name It Is Barnabas Lee.....Glenn Cook, Margaret Wilbur and Gladys Harrison
 7. I Love to Stroll.....Norman Johnson
 8. The Private Bold.....Lillian Harrington and girls
 9. Love's Full of Joy.....Ellen Blair
 10. Love That Quarries.....Lillian Harrington
 11. A Mermaid Fair.....Lester Jersey and girls
 12. Love Where You Like.....Barnstapole Girls
 13. 'Tis Then I'll Think of Thee.....Virgil Altenburg
 14. Good-bye Good-bye.....Chorus
 15. Away With Care and Sadness.....Chorus
 16. The Sun is Shining in the Sky.....Chorus
 17. A Fisher's Daughter.....Barnstapole Girls
 18. We Are Artists.....Dorothy Town
 19. Flower Song.....Lillian Harrington
 20. If This Be Love.....Ellen Blair
 21. She is Not Within the Bay.....Chorus
 22. (a) Cheer Boys Cheer.....Sailors
 23. In Sunny Spain.....Chorus
 24. Who Ever Caught Jackie Fast.....Sailors
 25. Life is Full of Ups and Downs.....Lillian Harrington and Lester Jersey
 26. Ho, Mariners of Barnstapole.....Lester Jersey and Chorus
 27. Arm in Arm We'll Walk on Sundays.....Ellen Blair and Virgil Altenburg
 28. Love Will Remain.....Lillian Harrington, Ellen Blair, Norman Johnson and Virgil Altenburg
 29. The Wedding Bells Are Ringing.....Final Chorus

CLEAN YOUR ALLEYS SAYS HEALTH OFFICER

Health Officer Orr requests everyone having filthy yards and alleys to have them cleaned before next Monday, May 22. She says there are numerous alleys and back yards that require attention. She would rather they be cleaned without a request from her, but asserts that alleys and filthy yards not cleaned by that time may be ordered cleaned.

This is a very reasonable request and everyone should be willing to do his or her part in making and keeping this city above reproach in this regard.

Mrs. Addie LaGrange spent Sunday with relatives at Stanton.